Berting on Albany's Plurality.

The Republicans finding one place (Albany; where they thought they could make some thing out of it, compared Albany with 1888, while comparing the registration of all other place, with 1891.

The facis are that the present registration in Albany, which is 1,300 over last year, is invorable to the Democrats.

Last year Albany gave Plower 3,836 plurality, while in 1888 the County gave Cleveland only 1,667.

The heavy registration of 1888 was obviously, it is claimed, Republican machine registration. Albany Democrats are betting freely at even money that Albany City and Albany County will give Cleveland over 2,100 majority.
